Hello everyone, I found some good images that you guys can easily edit with the help of these step by step guide. Step 1: Create a New Project First, lets create a new project with Photoshop. Start Photoshop and navigate to File | New to create a new document. In this document, we are going to choose PSD as the document type. Step 2: Name Your New Document You can either give it any name or you can name it the same as the file. Give it a name like "Linda Louise Fucks the Rabbit." Step 3: Open Your Image Open your image first by navigating to File > Open and opening the image. Step 4: Layer Managers Next, we will open up the Layer panel by navigating to Window > Layers. This is where we do all of our editing. The first thing we need to do is select the layer we want to work with. In this case, we'll use the sky layer. We can do this by navigating to View > Layer then double-clicking on the layer. The layer will change to the "active layer" which we can then use to edit. You can double-click on multiple layers simultaneously to have them all active at the same time. You can also select multiple layers by using the "select" or "lasso" tool. The Layers panel will show the active layer's name. You can click on the name to select it from the panel. The panel's name and what it looks like. You can collapse the panel by navigating to View > Customize > Show/Hide > Layers Panel (Command + 1) to help conserve screen real-estate. I personally find this screenshot to be a lot more useful for images that contain multiple layers. "Funny Cat"

When creating a new document, you can select the first layer to be the Background layer by navigating to Layer > New > Background then changing it to Base Color. We usually leave the Background layer as a white or black layer by unchecking it. Each layer can have a different color, pattern or gradient. Step 5: Add a Layer Mask Select a layer by clicking once inside the Layer panel and dragging it to the Layers panel to select it. Once in the Layers panel, select Layer > Layer Mask
